Needs study 2026/27: Sales & Business Development Coordinator

HOW WE DELIVER

Designed from evidence, delivered for practice

Every workshop follows the same four steps, so that what is taught is what your organisation needs and what is learned is used on the job.

1
Needs analysis
Your priorities are confirmed against the evidence base and the 2026/27 needs study.

2
Design
Cases, exercises and tools are adapted to your sector, systems and language of work.

3
Delivery
Small cohorts, in Arabic or English, led by practitioners with regional experience.

4
Impact
Baselines before, verified gains after; a short report for the sponsor.

FORMATS

In-house
Delivered at your premises for a single organisation, with cases drawn from your own processes and data.

Open enrolment
Scheduled cohorts at the Abdulaziz H. Al Sagar Development Center that mix participants from government, banking, business and SMEs.

Hybrid and blended
Live sessions combined with guided practice between sessions, so learning is applied on the job before the course ends.

TIERS

Foundation — 24 workshops
Entry level. No prior knowledge assumed; builds the shared vocabulary and habits.

Practitioner — 35 workshops
For staff who apply the skill in their own function; hands-on, case-based.

Leadership — 11 workshops
For executives and senior managers who govern, sponsor and decide.

Languages and materials. All workshops are delivered in Arabic or English, or bilingually, with materials in both languages on request. Participants receive a workbook, tools and templates for immediate use, and a certificate of completion from Abdulaziz H. Al Sagar Development Center.

Confirming your programme
Workshops marked TOP 50 and KUWAIT DEMAND are recommendations of the Kuwait Skills Priorities 2026 decision brief. Workshops marked NEW FOR 2026/27 are proposed for the needs study; their design is confirmed with the sponsor before delivery.

Bespoke programmes
Any workshop can be combined into a learning pathway, extended with coaching, or redesigned around your own cases, systems and data. Contact the ASDC training team to confirm dates, language and format.

METHOD

About the numbers

Every figure in this catalogue is computed from the data behind the brief and the needs study. This page explains each indicator.

Evidence base

The Training Knowledge Hub behind this catalogue holds 82 verified research reports on workforce skills (global, Gulf and Kuwait-specific), the published 2025-26 training plans of 11 Kuwaiti organisations (430 programmes) and a benchmark of provider courses. The Kuwait Skills Priorities 2026 decision brief distilled this into 50 recommended workshops with an evidence score from 0 to 100, and shortlisted 34 workshops in five categories, all of which appear here.

Market demand

Each workshop belongs to one of ten skill themes. Market demand is the share of the 82 reports that identify a need in that theme, so all workshops in a theme carry the same figure. Workshops added from the needs study inherit the demand of the theme they belong to; their specific demand is measured in the study itself.

Kuwait plans

The number of programmes among the 430 Kuwaiti planned programmes whose title relates to the workshop's topic, found by matching Arabic and English topic keywords chosen per workshop. A title is counted once per organisation; a programme can relate to more than one workshop, and the full match list is generated with the catalogue for review. The category shares on the openers use the brief's classification of all 430 programmes.

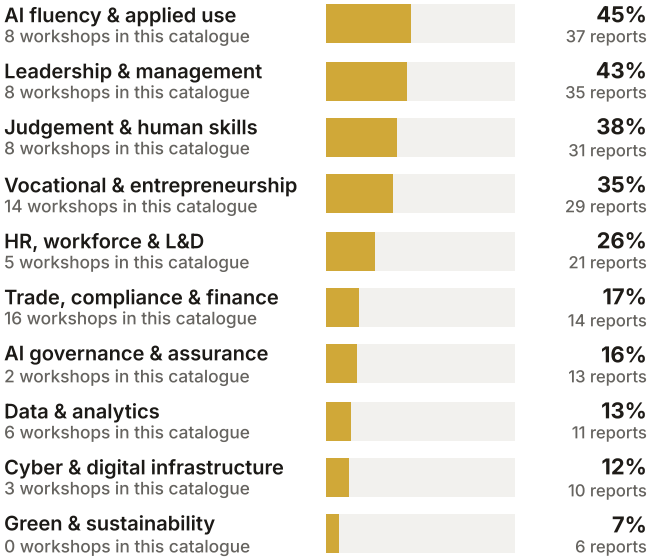

Local supply

For Top 50 and Kuwait-demand workshops, the brief's rating against 427 benchmarked provider courses and the Kuwaiti plans. For workshops new for 2026/27 it is read from the Kuwaiti plans: no related programme means no local equivalent; one or two means emerging; three or more means established. Career-readiness tracks are job-linked programmes and are not rated; their cards show the employment link instead.

Coverage of the needs study

All 46 courses in the Workforce Training Needs Study 2026/27 questionnaire appear in this catalogue: 11 are answered by workshops already in the brief and 35 by the 35 workshops added for the study (2 of which, Top 50 ranks #41 and #47, are recommendations of the brief that were not on its shortlist). One further workshop, AI in Human Resources: Screening, Fairness and Candidate Experience (Top 50 rank 1, score 100), is added as the ASDC priority workshop: the strongest evidence of any recommendation and no local equivalent. Durations and tiers of added workshops are design assumptions to be confirmed with the sponsor.

Market demand scale: share of the 82 research reports signalling demand in each skill theme

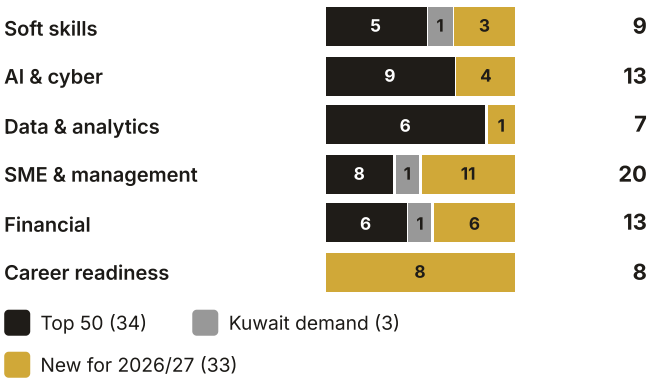

Source: Training Knowledge Hub, Top 50 recommendations analysis. Bars show the percentage printed under "Market demand" on every card.

Local supply of the 62 rated workshops

The 8 career-readiness tracks are job-linked programmes and carry no supply rating.

Where the workshops come from: brief shortlist and needs-study additions by category

Top 50 and Kuwait demand: recommendations of the brief (34 shortlisted there; Top 50 ranks #1, #41 and #47 added here, #1 as the ASDC priority workshop). New for 2026/27: proposed in the needs study.

ABOUT THIS CATALOGUE

Evidence first, then a programme.

The Training Catalogue 2026/27 was prepared by the Abdulaziz H. Al Sagar Development Center (ASDC) from the Training Knowledge Hub: 82 verified research reports, 430 programmes from the training plans of 11 Kuwaiti organisations and the Workforce Training Needs Study 2026/27, distilled into 6 categories and 70 workshops.
